CMF joins the Central Banks and Supervisors Network for Greening the Financial System (NGFS)

Entry into the NGFS was announced yesterday during the Financial Market Commission's participation at the COP25 summit in Madrid.

December 13, 2019.- The Financial Market Commission (CMF) informs that as of yesterday it became a member of the Central Banks and Supervisors Network for Greening the Financial System (NGFS).

This organization was created in December 2017 and brings together some of the world's leading central banks and financial supervisors. These include the European Central Bank and the central banks of England, France, China, Germany, Holland, and Italy, plus Mexico's National Banking and Securities Commission.

Membership to the NGFS was announced during the CMF's participation at the COP25 summit in Madrid, Spain.

The objective of the NGFS is to contribute to the exchange of experiences and best practices for proper environmental and climate risk management in the financial sector, and to support the transition towards a sustainable economy.
